Welcome to the Teacher's Portal

The SIP teacher's portal and all SIP materials are copyright protected and are not available to the public without express consent from the SIP. Please do not share permissions with other non-approved users.*

Why do I need this?

Because we know that every minute of a facilitator's teaching time is valuable, we've created a place just for you to quickly and easily find materials that support the Super Intelligence Program (SIP).

Where do I access it?

- Go to www.phonemicintelligence.org website
- Click on Login in the main website menu (top right)
- Insert the password intelligence when prompted
- Click the Submit button to login

What kind of materials can I find?

All of the materials listed in the teacher's portal were designed with the consideration that no two students or classrooms are exactly alike.

We've provided a variety of teacher/student training aids and engagement tools including videos, posters, and reference documents.

Student Support

There is no mandatory use of these tools in the classroom required. It is optional for facilitators to browse and determine what tools best support your student demographic and teaching style when delivering the technique.

Students 6th – Adults: Adult-led technique and instruction videos are encouraged
Students Pre-K – 5th: Professor Panda-led technique and instruction videos are encouraged

Teacher Support

The scripts for the PI techniques, teachings tips and FAQ's, as well as instructional guides for teachers can also be found on the portal.

Parent Support

Often times, parents or potential partners interested in better understanding the SIP program may reach out to you for more information. The sections labeled Promotional Materials and Science and Research provide easily printed overview documents that discuss the SIP, and the neuroscience and case studies on which it is founded. Please feel free to share these with your community.

Don't see what you are looking for? Write in to support@phonemicintelligence.org and we'll do our best to create what's needed in the way that you need it.

We welcome and encourage your partnership in customizing the implementation of the SIP core technique in the way that it works best for your students' needs. Your support is a key factor to success!
